Confidence Vote
To Churchill;
Reinforcements
Near Battlefield

LONDON, July 2.—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill won an overwhelming vote of confidence from the House of Commons today after he had gravely assessed the allied position in the Mediterranean and Middle East war zones as a near-disaster with a hope of victory pinned on "very considerable" reinforcements now in progress.

The vote was 475 to 25.

BY DREW MIDDLETON

LONDON, July 2.—(AP)—The battle of Egypt has brought the allies face to face with a disaster equalled only by the fall of France but the issue is not yet decided and "very considerable" reinforcements have reached or "are approaching" the battlefield, Prime Minister Churchill declared today.

This major strengthening of the battered British Eighth Army, atwarth the axis path to the Nile delta, Alexandria and Suez, was the basis of Churchill's statement that "I do not consider the struggle in any way as decided."

This appraisal of the allied position in Africa and the middle east, evoked by two days of debate in the House of Commons on Churchill's conduct of the war, was given in a speech which also touched upon the prime minister's recent consultations with President Roosevelt.

Conversation On War Only

He said the conversations were concerned "only with movement of troops, ships and aircraft and measures to be taken to combat losses at sea and more than replace sunken tonnage."

The United States Army air force has been in action for some days in the north African struggle while United States service and supply units have been engaged on behalf of the allies behind the battle lines.

"Almost everything arranged was secret," Churchill added of his talks with the president, and "there was never a more earnest desire between allies to engage the enemy."

In the closing passage of his historic reply, just before Commons began voting on a motion to censure his government for its direction of the war, Churchill said:

"I have stuck hard to my 'blood, toil, sweat and tears,' to which I have added muddles and mismanagement."

Will Be Long War

The war, in Churchill's opinion, is likely to be a long one and

Back To The Sea . . . For These Sailors . . .

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 2.—(AP)—It's back to the sea for sailors Anthony Pastula, 24, Youngstown, Pa., and Gene Aldrich, 22, Sikeston, Mo., who with a navy pilot drifted 34 days in a tiny rubber life raft after their dive bomber was forced down in the Pacific.

They are members of an aircraft carrier squadron temporarily on duty at North Island pending orders for sea duty. Pastula is an aviation ordnance man first class and Aldrich is a radio man second class.

The pilot, Aviation Chief Machinist's Mate Harold Dixon of nearby La Mesa who received the Navy Cross, is back in harness, too. He has shore duty on terminal Island, San Pedro.

Pastula and Aldrich were given navy citations.

Arrest Twenty Charged With Being Spies

Allege They Gave Fuel, Information To The Enemy

BY CHANDLER DIEHL
U. S. ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Panama Canal Zone, July 2.—(AP)—Lieut. Gen. Frank Andrews, defense commander of the Caribbean area, announced today the arrest of 20 persons who, the army charges, formed spy rings engaged in fueling axis submarines and disclosed information of United States shipping to the enemy.

A roundup completed June 25 included arrests extending from British Honduras to Panama.

Involved are prominent business men, laborers, night club hostesses, shipping employees, and trusted Panama Canal Zone workers.

Held For Trial

All 20 persons now are being held for trial.

The governor of British Honduras is awaiting the authority of the British government before determining trial procedure of those arrested in his territory.

A United States patrol plane uncovered the first definite evidence of the location of the ring's operations when it spotted a slow ship in the Caribbean carrying oil drums.

Ownership of the vessel was traced and a U. S. Army observer placed on the trail. Attempts were made to poison him and to sabotage his plane.

Five Escapees Apprehended

BOONVILLE, Mo., July 2.—(AP)—Five of seven inmates of the Missouri Training school, who escaped yesterday after stealing a car, were back at the institution today.

They were captured by Training school officers near California, Mo., after they had abandoned the car. A tire on a rear wheel had blown out.

Captured were Clarence Arnold 15, of Springfield; Phillip Baldwin 18, of Sedalia; Frank Fleming, 15, of Joplin; Herbert Ray, 16, of Jasper, and Howard Sutton, 16, of St. Joseph.

Still at large are William Scott of St. Louis and Eldon Vanzant of Harrison, Ark., both of them 17 years of age.

Five of them stole a car of a state cow tester of the dairy herd improvement association while he was at the training school dairy barn.

Son of Former Sedalians Gets Navy's Distinguished Flying Cross

Lieutenant Ira W. Brown, Jr., 25 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. Brown, of Ottumwa, Ia., formerly of Sedalia, has been awarded the navy's Distinguished Flying Cross for his part in the battle of the Philippines.

Brown, who was born in Ottumwa, was officially cited for the capable manner in which he aided his commanding officer during an attack by a 6-plane group of Japanese on a naval force off Jolo Sulu in the Philippine islands and for consistently performing his duty in an outstanding, courageous and efficient manner in numerous reconnaissance flights thereafter.

Women Stand Horrors Better Than Men

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(AP)—Women have stronger stomachs than men apparently amid the horrors of a modern bombing raid.

This was the opinion expressed today by First Lieut. Florence MacDonald of Brockton, Mass., one of the six army nurses just decorated for valor under fire in the Philippines.

She was discussing the December 7 bombing of Clark Field outside Manila.

"About a quarter to twelve that day I looked out the window and saw those beautiful planes pass over the nurses quarters," she related. "I thought they were our boys coming in from a scouting expedition."

"In less than two minutes bombs began falling on Clark Field about half a mile away. What does it sound like? Terrible—like nothing you've ever heard."

The raid quieted down in about three quarters of an hour and the nurses raced to the hospital.

"The wounded were being brought in and they stretched along the whole porch," Lieut. MacDonald said.

As the nurses approached she said they noticed six or seven men attendants who seemed dazed by the sight of the broken bodies.

"Did any of the nurses get sick? Why, no," she said seriously. "Then she laughed. 'Apparently the nurses' stomachs are stronger and better able to take it.'"

Back now about six weeks Lieut. MacDonald said she was about to get her nerves under control—"Not so jumpy," she said.

Exchange Prisoner Former Sedalian

A. B. Dodd, Greenwood, Mo., one of a large number of American citizens who will be returned to this country from Japanese-controlled territory in exchange for Japanese nationals en route to their homes from this country, is a former Sedalian.

Known here as Albert C. Dodd, he attended high school, and among his classmates was Irwin Raut, who remembers him well. His father was claim agent for the Missouri Pacific Railroad lines.

Albert C. Dodd for a number of years has been a Presbyterian missionary in China.

Airplane Engine Plant

KANSAS CITY, July 2.—(AP)—A contract for the construction of an $85,000,000 airplane engine plant was let today to the Turner Construction Company of New York and the Long Construction Company of Kansas City.

H. Mansfield Horner, vice president of United Aircraft corporation and general manager of the Pratt and Whitney division, who announced the contract, said construction would begin Saturday.

Five Allies Setting Up A Wheat Pool

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(AP)—Millions of hungry people in axis-occupied countries today had another reason to hope for a United Nations victory.

It was the decision of the United States and four other countries to set aside an immense pool of wheat for the relief of war-stricken countries, to be rushed to them "so soon as the international situation permits."

That means so soon as available shipping no longer is monopolized for the transport of the tools of war, and ships can carry bread stuffs instead of bombs, wheat instead of weapons, across the seas.

Wheat Agreement Feature
Establishment of a relief pool of not less than 100,000,000 bushels is only one of the features of the wheat agreement made public yesterday with the United States, Great Britain, Canada, Australia and Argentina as signatories. Other provisions to the control of wheat production stock and exports and the cooperation of all five countries in the stabilization of prices.

Other provisions to the control of wheat production stock and exports and the cooperation of all five countries in the stabilization of prices.

The combined wheat surplus of the four exporting countries involved now aggregates nearly 1,500,000,000 bushels. The ultimate aim is restoration of the international wheat trade on a sound basis, but to make sure the hungry millions will get bread without delay as soon as the war is won the 100,000,000-bushel relief pool is created.

Countries Will Donate
Donations of wheat from the participating countries will keep the pool heaped up and running over with breadstuff. Under the agreement the United States is obligated to give 50,000,000 bushels; Canada and Great Britain agree to give 25,000,000 each.

The agreement provides that as additional wheat for the pool is needed, Argentina, Australia, Canada and the United States will contribute amounts to be determined among themselves.

Conversations on the use of the wheat pool and other aspects of emergency relief for war-stricken areas already have begun in Washington. Secretary of State Hull has talked with British, Russian and Chinese representatives on the general situation and such talks will continue.

Voters To Pass On Old Age Revenue

JEFFERSON CITY, July 2.—(AP)—An old age pension proposal which would earmark $29,000,000 general revenue a year for old age pensions and aid to dependent children was assured a place on November's ballot today.

The secretary of state's office announced signatures on initiative petitions filed last week had been found sufficient and valid. The proposal was sent to the attorney general for preparation of a title necessary to submitting it at the general election.

The proposal is sponsored by the Missouri Pension Society and headed by Floyd P. Lee of St. Joseph.

Girl Dies From Car Accident Injuries

BLOOMFIELD, Mo., July 2.—(AP)—Miss Adeline Reagans, 16, died today from infection resulting from compound fracture of both legs in an automobile accident Saturday night. She was riding on the front bumper of an automobile driven by Quill Noce.

The young lieutenant's mother will be remembered in Sedalia as Miss Ruth Lovitt. He is a nephew of Mrs. Tom Perrin, of this city, missing for two weeks. He swam to an island where friendly natives cared for him and helped him to Borneo. There the Dutch aided him in returning to his outfit.

His parents, who believed him missing, next heard from him in Australia.

Lieutenant Brown attended the naval aviation training school at Pensacola, Fla., and upon graduation was assigned to a west coast bomber patrol. A year ago last April he was transferred to duty at Honolulu and in August was reassigned to duty with the Asiatic squadron based at Cavite.

British Battle To Hold Suez; Carry Fighting To Sevastopol

Reds Ignore German Claim That They Have Taken City Of Sevastopol

MOSCOW, July 2.—(AP)—Dispatches from battlefronts said this afternoon that the defenders of Sevastopol still struggled against surging axis forces while the Red army on the Kursk front had sharply counter-attacked, driving a wedge into the German lines.

The Kursk operation, carried out by night was said to have brought recapture of a settlement with the enemy put to flight in that sector, about 300 miles south of Moscow.

The Sevastopol garrison's position was characterized as "incredibly difficult."

MOSCOW, July 2.—(AP)—The Red Army reported at noon today that bitter fighting was continuing "in the Sevastopol direction" and dispatches telegraphed yesterday to the army newspaper Red Star said German assault troops had carried the battle into the city itself.

Red Star's accounts pictured heavily superior numbers of Nazi forces rolling slowly forward against staunch defenders of the Crimean base.

While fighting was carried into the ruined city, the Russians were believed still to hold strong positions on rocky Cape Flolent, to the south, between Sevastopol and Balaklava.

The Germans have announced capture of Sevastopol and Balaklava but have acknowledged that fighting still is in progress on the Kherones peninsula, of which Cape Flolent is a part.)

Many Bases
Even without Sevastopol, the Red navy's Black Sea fleet, including the modern cruisers "Red Crimea" and "Red Caucasus," find bases at a number of good ports on the Caucasian coast, including Novorossiysk, Taupse, Sukhum and Batumi.

The situation in the last Soviet stronghold in the Crimea was described as "extremely tense and difficult."

(Two successive Russian communiques have ignored German claims that the city had fallen.)

Farm Deadlock Still Unbroken

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(AP)—For the second day of the new fiscal year the agriculture department operated without funds today as congressional leaders sought in vain for a break in the deadlock which has stalled action on the department's $680,000,000 appropriation.

It was reported that the department was making no contracts or commitments, but otherwise it was functioning as usual. The department's next pay day is six days off.

Despite strong administration pressure, there was no sign of an immediate break in the 4-4 deadlock among senate-house conferees over a number of disagreements in the original bill. The principal stumbling block was reported to be an administration request for authority to sell wheat at below parity prices if necessary.

Some conferees were ready to take before the house and senate a simple resolution to make the bill's funds available for a month at least, but they could not get an agreement even on that.

There was a strong possibility that no action toward making the funds available would come before either chamber until next week unless basic differences are reconciled.

Claiming Sevastopol, Hitler Mobilizes For All-Out Drive

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), July 2.—(AP)—Germany claimed full possession of Sevastopol today and military authorities declared Adolf Hitler's mainland armies had completed line-straightening operations preparatory to attack in a second great phase of the war against Soviet Russia.

Mobilization for an all-out offensive was implied.

Hitler's newspaper, the Voelkischer Beobachter, said the Sevastopol campaign and other operations on the Russian front all "were initiating a new phase of the fight."

Use All Weapons
(German dispatches to neutral Switzerland indicated that every available weapon was being utilized in drives intended to consolidate invasion positions in Russia and the Mediterranean fronts before the end of 1942 and before the institution of allied action to which the axis press refers as "the coming siege of Europe.")

Germans pictured the Crimea—studded with potential air and sea bases for thrusts at the oil-rich Caucasus—as essentially cleared of organized resistance and DNB said that mainland armies of the Reich and her allies were aligned for a resumption of the drive to the east.

Celebrate Announcement
Sevastopol's fall was announced with a fanfare of trumpets by the German high command last night.

A communique said survivors of the Sevastopol garrison, driven by Nazi and Rumanian forces from that "most powerful land and sea fortress in the world" at noon yesterday, faced annihilation on the Kherones peninsula, which juts into the Black sea southwest of the city and its cliff-lined harbor.

German military sources said fighting still going on today on Kherones peninsula was only local. The communique today repeated yesterday's special announcement that Sevastopol had fallen.

On the far northern front, the communique said, Nazi bombers and dive bombers "pounded the harbor and railway installations at Murmansk with heavy high explosives."

The Atlantic coastal waters off the United States have become the graveyard of 143 ships since Pearl Harbor with the recent sinking of a large merchant vessel which was announced today by the navy department. A Brazilian ship was sunk off South America it was also disclosed, bringing the unofficial Associated Press tabulations of sinkings in the western Atlantic to 331.

The Associated Press breakdown of ship losses by United States and neutral nations in the western Atlantic since Pearl Harbor showed:

In the Caribbean 104.
Off Canada 35.
In the Gulf of Mexico 26
Off South America 23.

VICHY, July 2.—(AP)—Asking, "Do the English want to destroy our fleet at Alexandria?" the Vichy government served notice in a semi-official statement today that any such action against the interned squadron would be considered "an act of violence."

North-bound Katy Trains Detouring

Railroad traffic of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad, north bound, is still detoured over the Missouri Pacific from Sedalia to St. Louis. The tracks along the Missouri river near Jefferson City are still under water and at other points east of New Franklin.

The detouring of the trains has been for the longest period since 1935, local officials announced. It is expected to be several days before traffic will be resumed on the Katy line north, until careful inspection of the entire roadbed can be made.

Axis Troops Take El Alamein, 65 Miles West Of Naval Base, Alexandria

BY ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Italian headquarters asserted today that axis troops had stormed and captured El Alamein, only 65 miles west of Britain's great Alexandria naval base, as the British fought along a 35-mile "bottleneck" front in a desperate attempt to save the Suez Canal and perhaps the entire Middle East from German conquest.

Simultaneously, British imperial headquarters declared that Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck's armies, meeting the axis in full shock of battle after a 350-mile retreat in three weeks, beat off heavy attacks at El Alamein yesterday.

Describing preliminary phases of the great battle as "not unfavorable for us," the British communique said:

"One attack by enemy tanks effected a temporary break in a defended locality, but later the enemy tanks were driven out and engaged by our columns."

Terse dispatches from the front said the British, supported by American 28-ton "General Grant" tanks, were engaging field Marshal Erwin Rommel's victory-flushed invaders in heavy fighting from the Mediterranean coast inland to the Qattara depression.

Blunt Enemy Troops
Sweeping over the narrow fighting zone, allied warplanes including American "Kittyhawk" fighters blasted enemy tanks and troops.

A German broadcast, echoing the Italian claim, declared that Rommel's armies were pursuing the British in retreat toward the Nile after axis troops had broken through at El Alamein.

Dispatches indicated that Rommel struck under cover of a swirling sandstorm, assaulting the main British forces ranged along the coastal plain in a frontal thrust aimed at Alexandria.

An Italian communique said the British positions were "tenaciously defended" and were overrun only after sharp fighting.

"Our air force, which repeatedly intervened in the field, dominated the battle in the sky," the fascist war bulletin asserted.

Axis Forces Push On
While the fall of El Alamein would not be disastrous in itself, the axis claims indicated that Rommel's invaders had already pushed five miles or more into the British system of defense in depth.

The British front line previously had been described as 70 miles west of Alexandria and five miles west of El Alamein.

As Adolf Hitler's north African armies sought a decisive knockout in Egypt, the Russian high command declared that the heroic defenders of Sevastopol still

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON AND
ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, July 2—Rexford Guy Tugwell always had an unhappy faculty for putting his well polished boots in the wrong place when he was a member of the original Roosevelt "brain trust." Now as governor of Puerto Rico he is doing the same thing.

Tugwell is busily engaged in purging all U. S. officials in Puerto Rico who do not agree with him. And as a part of this purge he has recently written a letter to the navy department suggesting that Comdr. Tom Henning, Tugwell's naval aide and former congressman from St. Louis, be transferred to Pearl Harbor, without being permitted to come to the United States enroute.

What Tugwell fears is that Comdr. Henning may fall within the White House spotlight and become governor of Puerto Rico himself.

Comdr. Henning served several years as one of the most forthright members of congress, resigned to become prosecuting attorney of St. Louis and now is in the navy. Last year he was sent to Puerto Rico as Tugwell's aide. While visiting the United States about a month ago, Comdr. Henning was interviewed by ex-Senator Harry Hawes of Missouri and Walter Jones, both interested in sugar.

Henning Spurns Politics

After sounding out Henning on his views, Jones said: "I understand Tugwell is not getting along very well in Puerto Rico and I'd like to propose your name for governor."

To this Henning replied: "Absolutely not."

"Then would you give us permission to work for you behind the scenes, without your knowing about it?" Jones asked.

"I would not," replied Henning emphatically.

When Comdr. Henning got back to Puerto Rico he told the incident to Tugwell more or less as a joke, but the governor obviously was most irritated. Later Secretary Ickes wrote to Tugwell that he had proposed to Secretary of the Navy Knox, at Tugwell's request, that Comdr. Henning be transferred to Pearl Harbor. This was done.

But Tugwell was not satisfied with the transfer alone. The navy received a letter from him saying that Henning's name had been mentioned from time to time as governor of Puerto Rico and Tugwell hoped that in the transfer to Pearl Harbor Henning would be ordered direct to his destination without visiting Washington or the main land "in furtherance of his ambitions, whatever they may be."

The navy took the position that the U. S. government had not yet reached a stage at which an American naval officer could be barred from visiting his home land.

Meanwhile, Tugwell has started a purge of Attorney General Geo. Malcolm, Walter Cope, his secretary, and Auditor Patrick J. Fitzsimmons, who made the political error of showing up the fact that Tugwell's office of civil defense spent $140,000 for administrative work alone — which for its size is just about a record.

There is some question, however, whether Tugwell or those mentioned above will be out first. The ex-Brain Trustee is getting on the nerves, not only of the Puerto Ricans, but of some important people in Washington. There is some talk of his resignation.

Note: Tugwell has just appointed John Lear, crack Associated Press news man, as his high powered new publicity agent to bail-lynch the regime in Puerto Rico.

Fish's isolationist franking activities.

However, the New Yorker is still finding ways and means to use the taxpayers' money for his political ends. He now has gone in for another form of congressional boudoir — nepotism.

Latest addition to Fish's office staff is a daughter, Elizabeth S. Fish, familiarly known in the capital's social whirl as "Zevah." Miss Fish made her debut several years back and is active in the younger set. To what extent this background fits her for secretarial work is open to argument, but thanks to her father she is tapping the taxpayers for $2,000 a year.

Others on Capitol Hill who are keeping Fish company in nepotism are:

Congressman Clyde Williams of Missouri: His wife, Lola M., is on the payroll for $1,500 a year.

Representative Fred L. Crawford of Michigan: His wife, Elizabeth A., gets $1,440.

Representative Malcolm C. Tarter of Georgia: His son, Malcolm C. Jr., draws $3,200 a year as his father's secretary.

Representative Philip A. Bennett of Missouri: His son, Marion T., is on the congressional payroll for $3,900.

Representative H. P. Fulmer of South Carolina: His wife, Willa E., receives $3,800 as his secretary.

Representative A. L. Allen of Louisiana: His wife, Lottie May, gets $1,900 a year.

Note: When J. Edgar Hoover seized eight Nazi saboteurs landed here by submarine, he discovered that some of them had been sent back to Germany by Nazi Consul General Borchers. This same consul general paid Fish around $4,000 a year as rent on his house in New York.

Home Front Flashes

Frank Grillo, able young secretary-treasurer of the United Rubber Workers, has made a very interesting suggestion to President Roosevelt. Grillo urged the president to make a fireside chat addressed directly to the millions of Americans who came from the six countries with which the U. S. is at war — Germany, Italy, Japan, Hungary, Bulgaria and Rumania. Grillo, of Italian descent, says the overwhelming majority of these Americans are loyal and patriotic but need to be "helped and enlightened," and he holds that the president is the one man to do this. "A fireside chat of this nature," he told Roosevelt, "would bring forth an outburst of enthusiasm from millions of humble workmen who have remained silent on account of fear of reprisals."

For the first time since World War I, the railroads can't get enough labor. Several years ago the carriers were laying off thousands, now they are hotly competing with industry for workers. . . . Chalk up another war-born substitute that will put money in farmers' pockets. The fibre left after sugar cane is processed for its juice is being used in place of unobtainable cork in cold storage insulation board. Not only is the cane substitute cheaper, but it is stronger and more effective than cork in keeping out heat.

End To Exchange Of Nationals

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 2—(P)—Termination by Germany of an agreement permitting safe conduct voyages by the liner Drottningholm was announced on Wednesday while rigorous search of the vessel continued here and more than 800 passengers were held aboard the ship.

Berlin's refusal to continue the exchange of American and German nationals through the liner chartered to the Swiss government was disclosed by the state department in Washington.

Whether there was any connection between the German action and the fact that the present passengers were held incommunicado for the second day was not immediately known. The Nazi government declared it could not guarantee the safety of the ship's future voyages.

Special Investigator

THE STORY: Judith Kingsly and Tom Burke, employees of an airplane factory, are en route to the west coast. When foreign agents kidnap Tom from an airplane, Judith leaves the plane with the new bomber plans which Tom had slipped to her. Pursued by the agents, she finds Tom in a cabin, leaves him fighting with his captors, thumbs two rides and, after many narrow escapes, eludes the pursuers and reaches San Diego.

WHERE IS TOM?

CHAPTER VII

It was after 1 o'clock in the afternoon when Judith opened her tired and swollen eyes. She hadn't intended to sleep so long, but once asleep she could not waken. Every bone and muscle in her exhausted body ached. It took all her strength and will power to get out of bed.

She walked to the window and looked down on the crowded street. For no apparent reason her heart quickened its beat and intuition told her the car parked across from the hotel belonged to the spy ring. A man walked slowly up and down the street, occasionally glancing at the hotel entrance.

"They have found out in some way that I am here," a gleam of light came into her eyes as she turned from the window to the telephone.

"Please send me a maid," she told the man at the desk. And while she waited, she mused: "I've come this far on my own and I can go the rest of the way. I'll deliver these plans in person and nothing is going to stop me."

To the maid she said, "Could I rent a uniform from you?"

"Oh, yes, miss," the girl replied eagerly at the sight of the bill in Judith's hand. "I'll get it for you now."

Judith left the hotel by the servants' entrance without being accosted and found a cab. An hour later she entered the manager's office at the west coast factory.

He looked up, startled at seeing a smiling, redheaded maid standing there. He cleared his throat while Judith enjoyed his embarrassment.

"I don't blame you for being amazed, Mr. Mathews. I'm Judith Kingsly of the eastern office. I have the plans Mr. Burke was bringing to you. Sorry they are late in arriving."

Mathews got hastily to his feet and came around the desk to take her hands. There was deep admiration in his eyes.

"You got through!" he exclaimed, overjoyed. "When we heard Tom Burke was missing we had just about given up hopes of the plans. Mr. Watson has been

Looking Backward

forty years ago

The total tax collections for the city during June were $6,116.93, being $2,000 more than has been collected during the same month of any previous year.

J. G. McGrew, father of W. E. Bard of Sedalia and associates, of Lexington, who are promoting an electric line between Kansas City and Lexington, are preparing to ask a franchise from Kansas City for their road.

The road show being presented at the Forest Park theater is said to be much better than the usual run, and large crowds are attending the nightly performances. Tonight's program is entitled "Are You An Elk?"

The Kansas City Electric Light company will make a proposition to the city to furnish street lights at actual cost. The company's offer is to take effect when the new power station on the banks of the Kaw is finished, which will probably this fall.

Revival Meeting Underway At Bethel Church

A revival service is being held at Bethel church, 12½ miles southwest of Lamonte. The meeting started June 29 and will continue two weeks.

frantic about you. You'd better call the home office right away. Here!"—he pushed her into a chair—"I'll have the call put right through for you."

"But what happened to Tom Burke?" Judith asked fearfully.

Mathews shook his head slowly. "We don't know. The plane was located yesterday and brought in. The passengers told us what happened before and after your disappearance, but they were all hazy about the looks of the men."

"The last time I saw Tom," said Judith, her voice low and her eyes misty, "he was fighting with his captor. He ordered me to leave. I had the plans. He dropped them in my seat when they were taking him off the liner. The spies had him in a shack near where the plane was brought down."

"The FBI men found the shack. It was empty, of course."

"Of course," she repeated. "They would have Tom with them. So he must be all right," she said, more for her own benefit than for the manager's.

When the long distance call came through, Judith gave Watson a brief resume of her experiences.

"I didn't know I was letting you in for all that," Watson told her contritely. "I want you to stay out there in California for a rest. Three weeks' vacation—and a raise, too."

She hung up, and lifted sad, speculative eyes to Mathews.

But immediately another idea made her eyes sparkle with adventure. "I can help find Tom Burke and the spy ring. I'm sure of it."

"How?"

She shrugged her slim shoulders. "Just leave it to me. Those spies have been on my trail constantly. Just because I have delivered the plans doesn't mean they will let me go free. I rather imagine they'd like to get hold of me if for no other reason than to put me out of the picture."

Mathews sat silent and concerned. Judith walked to a window and looked out.

"I wouldn't be surprised if someone was waiting for me right now."

"We wouldn't think of letting you take such a chance," Mathews exploded. "I'm going to send you back east in a private plane from the field here."

Judith shook her head. "Tom's life may be at stake," she said crisply, then added smilingly. "Besides, I've just been promised three weeks' vacation."

"Let's hear your plan, Miss Kingsly."

"Those men won't let Tom go—"

The Pyramids of Modern Civilization?

Plea Made To Keep Fairs Going

WASHINGTON, July 2—(P)—Representative Elliott (D-Calif.) told the House today that the Office of Defense Transportation did not understand by the educational value of county fairs when it appealed for their discontinuance and permitted baseball and sport events to be held in cities.

The Californian said Joseph B. Eastman, Director of Defense Transportation appealed for the and gasoline that might be used in going to county fairs. He said the fairs were the only vacation most farmers got each year and they spent not more than two days at the fairs.

"Now let's not kid ourselves any longer. If things are so bad as some would lead us to believe, and it is necessary to conserve our rubber and gasoline, let's immediately stop everything which is considered wasteful and not just discriminate against a few or one particular activity, such as fairs."

For One-House Legislature

JEFFERSON CITY, July 2—(P)—Initiative petitions proposing a constitutional amendment which would set up a unicameral—or one-house—legislature in Missouri were filed with the secretary of state late Wednesday.

If the petitions are found to have the required number of signatures—at least five per cent of the voters in at least nine of the state's 13 congressional districts—the amendment will be submitted to the voters in next November's general election.

The petitions were filed in the presence of Gov. Forrest C. Donnell by Prof. Charles A. Lee of Washington university, state chairman of the committee for a one-house legislature, and W. F. Fahey, the amendment's author. Lee said they were signed by about 85,000 persons in 11 congressional districts.

The single law-making body proposed to replace the present house and senate would consist of from 50 to 75 members, who would be paid not less than $100 nor more than $150 a month, plus $6 a day while in session. It would be assisted by a legislative council of from three to five members devoting their full time to study of state problems.

Tomorrow is the last day for initiative proposals to be filed for printing on the November ballots.

Thirty Injured By A Collapse

KANSAS CITY, July 2—(P)—Thirty men employed on a construction project at the Army Quartermaster depot were injured Wednesday when a bomber frame work on which they were working collapsed.

Fourteen received hospital treatment.

About 75 men were working on the 1-story scaffolding when the accident occurred.

Officials of the construction company labeled the collapse as freakish and unavoidable, and estimated the damage at $5,000.

First Week While They EAT PLENTY!

Many Lose Pounds of Ugly Fat

Would you like to get rid of that ugly flabby fat that spoils your figure and is so annoying? Of course. Everyone does. But now you can reduce without going hungry, without starving, on a single type of food—without resorting to drugs, exercise or dangerous starvation diets.

All you have to do is this: Eat your regular breakfast and dinner. Don't forget starches and sweets. Just cut down on them a little. But here's the trick. For lunch take 2 tablespoons of VITEEN in a glassful of fruit or vegetable juice or any other beverage. With it, if you wish, take a cup of tea or coffee. It is pleasant and enjoyable, and notice how it satisfies your appetite. The important thing, however, is that it supplies Vitamins A, B, C, D and G, as well as calcium, phosphorus and strength-building proteins. In sizable quantities and in a way that keeps up your strength and energy while forcing the food you normally take for lunch, VITEEN helps the body use up its own fat.

Farm Leaders In Discussions On The Program In War

Six Meetings In Communities Of The County Held The Past Week

Ninety leaders attended the seven discussion meetings held last week on the National War Program. The meetings were held in the Flat Creek, Grange, Dresden, Hughesville, Houstonia, and Lake Creek communities. These discussion meetings were held under the direction of the community co-chairmen of the County Rural Planning Committee and Extension Agents. Similar meetings will be held in other communities when farm work is less pressing.

The national program to prevent run-away prices attacks the problem from seven points. All of these attacks are doubled-barreled in that they are aimed at controlling both war time inflation and post-war deflation. Some of the attacks are indirect but nevertheless could be effective.

The seven points included in the program are:

1. Heavy taxation, which will reduce consumer purchasing power, reduce the price of war materials and the total cost of the war, and collect a greater part of the war cost when people are more able to pay.

2. Price ceilings, which during the war, will lower the cost of living and of production, and will reduce the cost of the war program.

3. Price ceilings during the war will lessen, in the post-war period, the taxes necessary to pay for the war, the declines in prices, and the disparity in the prices of the various classes of goods and services.

4. Stabilization of wages, which will lower living costs during the war and the costs of the war. This will tend, in the post-war period to lessen the adjustments of wages to lower commodity prices and lessen the decreases in employment.

5. Sale of war bonds, which during the war will reduce spendable consumer income and thereby reduce cost of living and of the war. In the post-war period, this will tend to lessen the decline in farm prices, in the purchasing power of farm products, and the evils of high wartime prices of farm lands.

6. Rationing, which during the war will apportion scarce commodities in relation to needs rather than to ability to pay. This likewise will build up a reserve of consumer demand for the post-war period-as for automobiles, residential buildings, etc.

7. Debt retirement, and curtailment of installment and credit purchases which will reduce spendable consumer income and demand for consumer goods during the war.

In the post-war period, this will reduce the necessary payments on debt, leave large balances for purchases of consumer goods, and lessen farm foreclosures.

Girls Making 4-H Uniforms

Of interest to 4-H club members is the fact that the Ringen 4-H club girls are all making 4-H club uniforms. The clothing leader, Miss Ruth Geishen bought sufficient material of the standard broadcloth for 4-H uniforms for all the girls so they would be certain to have them all alike. They are having a good time making the uniforms and anticipate a good time in wearing them.

The girls think these sport type dresses of green slub broadcloth with white trim will make neat dresses for school wear as well as uniforms to wear to club events.

A 16-inch gun should not be fired more than 150 times without overhauling.

Suggestions for Victory Garden

Let Potatoes Mature

Irish potatoes are often dug before they are mature. This practice is followed commercially because of the higher price paid for potatoes at that time of year when Missouri potatoes are immature. For home use, they are harvested in this stage only by those who particularly like them in that stage of development.

In this immature stage the skin which is the outer protective covering is only partially developed and, therefore, of very little protection. It is very difficult to handle such potatoes without breaking and scuffing the skin thereby permitting excessive evaporation and rotting.

Except for a few which the family may want to eat at this time of year Irish potatoes should be allowed to remain in the ground until the tops die down. This practice will greatly increase the yield due to the fact that the greatest enlargement of the tubers take place during the last few weeks of the plant's growth.

Observe Arrangements of Crops. This is an excellent time for every family that is growing its own vegetable supply to observe the arrangement of crops in their garden and make note of the changes they will make in planting next year's vegetables.

The early maturing vegetables should be planted on one side of the area, and the late maturing and those which will be in the ground until frost should be on the other side. With this arrangement if the area is small and the gardener wants to make most use of the soil he will harvest each early maturing crop as soon as he has finished using it and will keep the weeds down on the area until time to make other plantings.

By this time of year there should be a strip of ground on the early side of the garden which is entirely bare and is ready for the fall plantings as soon as the time of planting them arrives.

In instances where space is not limited, the area where the early season crops were grown may be planted to some green manure crop such as soybeans or cowpeas which may be plowed under in the fall to add much needed organic matter to as much of the garden as possible in one year.

Eat Carrots At Their Best. To enjoy the most delicious flavor of carrots they must be used when they are young, crisp and tender.

Carrots grown on fertile soil supplied with plenty of organic matter and plant food are in the most desirable eating stage when they are only an inch or less in diameter at the top. In this stage they are crisp and tender and have not as yet developed a core which is often quite distinct in mature carrots.

Harvesting New Zealand Spinach. New Zealand spinach is one of the vegetables which will grow and produce during the warm part of the season when regular spinach varieties cease growing and produce seed stalks.

New Zealand spinach grows flat on the ground and branches freely. In order to enjoy its best flavor the tender, growing tips of the branches should be pinched off four or five leaves back from the growing tips and these used for greens or in salads. When these tips are removed the plant will immediately send out other branches in the axils of the leaves on the stem which is left. Individual leaves farther down the stem may be used also. The large, heavy stems, however, are apt to be coarse and somewhat strong in flavor.

Blister Beetles. Blister beetles, or the "old fashioned" potato beetles or "runners," may show up in the garden soon. Their appearance is usually made suddenly and in large numbers. No warning is given since the younger stages of this pest do not feed on plants. There are several kinds, varying in color from brownish striped to gray and black, but their habits are the same.

The beetles are very resistant to contact sprays or dusts. Even

Profit From The Early Pigs

Added Advantage In Finishing Them For Market

It always has been good practice to finish and market spring pigs early, because full-fed pigs have made 11 pounds gain with some 10 per cent less feed than pigs fed half-rations during their "growing" period, and hog prices in January and December are usually some 10 per cent below September and October prices.

There will be added advantages in marketing the 1942 spring pig crop early this fall, says Gordon B. Nance of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture.

The 1942 spring pig crop is the largest on record—30 per cent above last year and 40 per cent above the 10-year average. Marketing is likely to be later than usual since farrowings were about a week later than last year and the high price of hogs in relation to corn will cause hogs to be fed to heavier weights—which means a longer feeding period.

This probably means that an extra large pig crop will be marketed in December and January—the months in which slaughtering plants are always most fully employed.

Transportation—either by rail or truck—may be harder to get in December and January, because of shipments of war materials and the shortage of rubber for trucks tires. It is possible that "permits" could by that time be required for shipping hogs—as they are now required for shipping wheat.

Thus, by marketing early, we are likely to get more economical gains and a higher price and have less difficulty in getting our pigs to market and make more efficient use of the national slaughter and transportation facilities. So let's market our springs by Thanksgiving day this year—unless we have mighty good reasons for not doing so.

arsenical poisons are not particularly effective against them. Dusting or spraying with heavy dosages of arsenicals may tend to repel them. On those plants which are ready for table use a somewhat expensive non-poisonous dust mixture may be used to a fairly successful degree. It is a concentrated pyrethrum dust known on the market as pyrocid. Where only a few plants are involved it is best to hand pick or knock the beetles off into a pan of water and oil. Sometimes it is possible to drive them out of the garden.

Keep Weeds Out Of Asparagus. During seasons when moisture is plentiful and growing conditions are favorable, weeds get a start in asparagus beds even after the tops of the asparagus are allowed to grow. If a thorough cultivation is given the bed at the end of the cutting season, this problem is not as acute. However, some weeds may still get started, particularly around the edges of the bed.

Since the rest of the season should be devoted to manufacturing food which will be stored in the roots for next year's shots, asparagus should be kept free from weeds throughout the entire season. By keeping weeds out, all of the food value can be used by the asparagus plants, and thus develop stronger root systems and consequently sturdier, more vigorous roots for the following year's crop.

Urge Getting In Fuel Early. Prospects of a transportation shortage make it imperative that everyone obtain his fuel supply before next winter. Wood and coal resources of the state insure adequate supplies of fuels during the war but these supplies must be moved to the stoves and furnaces of the consumer. Diminishing rubber supplies and overburdened railroads add to the problem of transporting these needed materials.

In most sections of the state wood is available and should be used for fuel where its use represents a substantial saving in transportation. One cord of good fuel wood is equal in heating value to one ton of Missouri coal.

Harvesting fuel wood need not and should not deplete the woodland resource. It should be kept in mind that a cubic foot of wood is worth less as fuel than as any other forest product. Therefore, only the poorer quality trees should be utilized for fuel and the better trees left to mature and produce a more valuable crop.

Appraising National War Program As To Economy

By D. C. Wood, Extension Economist, University of Missouri

In appraising the National War Program the attention of the individual and of economic groups is centered upon the probable immediate effects of such measures as priorities for various materials and for processed or manufactured goods that must go in to war production, as price ceilings on certain goods, as the rationing of the scarce consumption goods and as the restrictions on the use of credit. And this appraisal takes into account how such measures will affect one's self as well as how the Nation's war efforts will be served thereby.

But as these measures are applied and as war developments bring about other internal changes in the workaday economy of the United States and of other allied nations the possible long-time effects gain in significance.

The central effort of warring nations is to concentrate all forces upon attaining their most effective use in the conduct of the war. In this effort wastes in production and in distribution are being increasingly eliminated and in many instances individual advantages are quickly giving way to the national welfare. The significant feature of these changes is that the nation as a whole and its constituent parts will have opportunity to observe how waste in our economy has been and to conclude that the steps which make for greater national effectiveness during war may well serve the same purpose after the war.

The Food Dollar. It has long been the farmer's contention that the share of the consumer's food dollar that comes to the original producer of that food has not been equitable. It has been his opinion that the costs of processing, marketing and transportation have represented some exploitation of the farmers' products and of the consumers' pocket book. It has been the farmer's belief that there has been a screw loose in the competitive system which has made for waste rather than economy and that under a more economical handling of his products after they leave his hands the consumer's dollar should be able to buy more food and the production of that dollar returned to the producer should be greater.

Storage Will Help In Foods

Foresight in planning for the storage of Victory garden products this summer will be worth a lot of hindsight when garden surpluses commence to develop, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Potatoes, sweet potatoes, root vegetables, cabbage, celery, pumpkins, squash, apples, winter pears, and other products will keep well in cellars, in above ground or underground storage structures, or in mounds, pits, or trenches.

Good ventilation and controlled temperature and moisture are important for some products. Store canned goods on shelves in a cool, dry place with good air circulation; if in glass, protection from light checks fading. Containers of dried food keep best in a warm, dry place such as an airy, warm attic or near the furnace. Brined vegetables keep well in the cellar in stone jars or kegs, completely covered with brine.

Families who check over their storage space early in the season can plan improvements and extensions. Where enough storage is available, it is wise to keep lockers full.

Feeding And Watering Equipment Needed For The Young Pullets

With the record number of pullets being raised on Missouri farms this year, many poultry raisers are finding that more feeding and watering equipment is needed. The use of low-cost labor-saving equipment in the way of range feeders and barrel water fountains makes it possible to cut the time devoted to pullet raising almost in half, points out C. E. Rohde of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture.

The five-foot range feeder has a material cost of less than $2 and three of them are needed for each 100 pullets. One can be used to provide a constant supply of grain, and two are needed for growing mash.

A barrel watering device, including a float valve and pan, can be purchased for approximately $1.75. Most barrels will hold at least a two-day water supply.

The use of these equipment short cuts will avoid such irritating details as hurried trips to the pullet range, empty feeders, dry water fountains, and crowding around freshly-filled feeders and fountains. The use of adequate equipment will also mean more fully-developed, vigorous pullets, and this is extremely important because of the capacity job of pullet raising that must be done.

Still Chance To Produce Crops

Suggestions For Use Of Lands That Were Flooded

The high water and floods striking in many parts of Pettis county have left some farmers with this problem, "What can I still grow on this land this season?" According to J. Ross Fleetwood, Extension Specialist in Field Crops, Missouri College of Agriculture, there still remains a few crop possibilities for over-flood land. The crop chosen will depend largely upon personal wishes, equipment, availability of seed, and the period of time which must elapse before it is possible to seed the crop.

If the land can be prepared and planted not later than July 10-15, an early maturing variety of corn can be planted for grain with relatively high degree of safety. Krug, 100-day Yellow Dent, Minnesota 13 or any short-season hybrid can be used. If a silo is available, the corn can be used for silage even though it is soft. Hogs can also utilize some soft corn should the season prove too short for complete maturity.

For the production of grain, sorghums can be used and should be planted not later than July 10-15. Sunrise, red or pink kafir can be used but Western Blackhull and Club kafir are both earlier in maturity. The seeding rate is 4-5 pounds seed per acre for grain, 10-12 pounds per acre for silage, and 40-50 pounds for hay.

In view of the price as well as war needs, it would be advantageous to use some of this flooded land for soybeans for grain, if possible. This crop, too, must be planted not later than July 15 if the crop is to be matured safely. Mukden and Richland would probably be best in north Missouri, followed closely by Illini, Manchou, Dunfield, and Chief. Soybeans for hay will have ample time to mature if Virginia, Wilson or one of the early beans is used. The seeding rate is 30-40 pounds of seed in rows; 60-90 pounds if drilled solid.

Where pasture can be used to good advantage, sudan grass seeded at the rate of 25 to 30 pounds per acre is a good possibility. Sudan also can be cut for hay should hay be a problem.

Care Of Utensils Prolong Use

A part of wartime good housekeeping is taking care of the metals in ordinary household articles. Urges Miss Madonna Fitzgerald of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture, All metals should be kept clean by frequent dusting or wiping with a damp cloth, and they may all be washed in hot, sudsy water, rinsed, and dried thoroughly.

Food should not be left in aluminum vessels very long. Food stored in aluminum, or food particles not washed out, will cause pits or holes in aluminum pans. Any alkali such as soda water will turn aluminum dark and cause it to pit. An aluminum pan can be brightened by boiling a weak acid solution in it, such as water with a little vinegar added. Badly discolored aluminum can be cleaned with very fine scouring powder, or a very fine steel wool.

Spots on copper and brass may be removed with home-made cleansers such as hot vinegar and salt, or metal polishes made for brass and copper can be used. Copper should be kept absolutely clean if used in preparing food.

Scouring powder or metal should not be used on chrome finishes. Iron should be kept thoroughly dry to avoid rust. Nickel should be kept bright from day to day, and if something stronger than soap and water is needed use a very fine cleaner such as whitening paste. Use only gritless cleaning powder or very fine steel wool on stainless steel. If it is attempted to keep tin shiny the tin coating may be removed and the metal underneath exposed to rust. Boiling soda water in the pan from 3 to 5 minutes will remove burnt foods from tin.

Density of population in the United States is now 44.2 persons per square mile, according to the Census Bureau.

folded with talcum powder between folds.

To disinfect rubber, dip article in 5% solution of carbolic acid and allow to drain. Rinse articles in clear water when dry.

Repair rubber articles that are broken or torn but not when it becomes sticky, brittle, or cracked.

Rural Life Problems

In a year of relatively high national income, as 1942 has been and will continue to be, home-owning families ordinarily would spend more than usual for repairing and renovating their dwellings. Some farm families would undertake comparatively extensive remodeling—the installation of running water, electric lights or a furnace, or even adding a room. But since 1942 is a war year, customary ways of using increased income cannot be followed. Widespread improvement of housing must be temporarily deferred to be undertaken in post-war days.

The need for planning to improve the housing of farm families once the war is ended is shown by housing data from the 1940 census, now available for 27 states.

Supplies of materials for building new homes has been sharply curtailed in recent months. Prices of building materials is higher this year than early in 1941.

No cooper sheet, strips, and screens have been manufactured since January of this year. Weather stripping of houses has been curtailed. Lumber, concrete, stone, brick, and glass are subject to priority control. Nails and staples, and barbed wire can be purchased, but in such reduced quantities that few are able to obtain them.

Paint and varnish for freshening the house are getting scarce because some of drying oils and pigments needed in paint manufacture are scarce due to reductions in imports and to increased use of paint ingredients for the war program.

Families wishing to remodel their home find it difficult or impossible to obtain materials needed, and skilled labor to make the improvements.

Repairs necessary for the family's health and safety or to prolong the life of the house should be made, but materials on hand or from local sources should be used insofar as possible. Because of the labor shortage, families may have to make the repairs themselves, if such work is done.

Farm WAR NEWS

Q. Will there be plenty of new farm machinery available next year?

A. From all indications the supply of new machinery will be even less than this year.

Q. What is being done to guarantee sufficient equipment for farmers?

A. To make sure the farmer actually receives the equipment produced for him the WPB has acted to prevent diversion of farm machinery and equipment to industrial and other non-agricultural uses.

Q. Will farmers be able to get all the new machinery they want?

A. The machinery authorized to be produced under the program represents minimum amounts needed by farmers. Therefore, new machinery will be limited.

Q. Will welding rods be available for repair purposes?

A. A WPB order has just been issued placing distribution of welding rods and electrodes under strict control. It specifies that 6 per cent of these supplies which are manufactured must be set aside each month for repair and maintenance.

Q. What can farmers do to remedy the machinery shortage?

A. They can repair old equipment and make it do for another year wherever possible.

Q. What machinery is most needed in Missouri?

A. Tractor cultivators, mowing machines, tractor harrows and discs, hay rakes, and hay tools, and tractors.

Q. Is a shortage of new machinery anticipated for Pettis county?

A. Supplies of tractor cultivators, hay balers, grain binders, disc harrows, tractor mowers, hay rakes—sulky and side delivery, and tractor plows are expected to be scarce according to a survey just completed by the county USDA War Board.

Q. Is the county USDA War Board taking steps to remedy the machinery shortage?

A. The report of the Board has been submitted to the War-Production Board in order that they may allocate steel for the equipment most vitally needed.

Several Ways To Have Beans The Off Season

Canning, Freezing Or Drying Three Best Methods

We're in the midst of the green bean season and this is one vegetable that lends itself to a variety of ways of preservation for future use. Green beans are a good source of Vitamin A since they are a green colored vegetable.

Green beans may be preserved to use this winter by canning, freezing, or drying. However, regardless of how they are to be prepared they should be harvested when they are just at the stage of maturity when they would be best to eat. Select pods which are dark green in color and which are tender and stringless. Avoid overmature pods. The beans should be picked just before they are prepared. They should be in the can, freezer locker, or on the drying tray about two hours after they are picked. If they are picked, then allowed to set around before they are prepared they lose some of their precious vitamins, and the bacteria count starts rising when they leave the vines.

If the beans are to be frozen wash them and prepare them as you would for table use. Scald them 2 to 3 minutes in boiling water then plunge them into cold water until cold and drain. The scalding kills some of the spoilage organisms, brightens the color, and makes the vegetable pack better, and kills the enzyme action which would otherwise cause undesirable changes in the color and flavor of the vegetable. The scalded vegetable may be packed dry or covered with a 2 per cent brine solution. (1teaspoon of salt to a quart of water) and frozen immediately.

Prepare For Table

To can the beans prepare as for table use, then add boiling water to cover and simmer uncovered for about 5 minutes or until beans are wilted and will bend without breaking. Pack into clean hot jars, reasonably tight without cramming to within 1 inch of the top of the jar. Add 1 teaspoon of salt to the quart. Cover with hot liquid, in which the beans were simmered, and exhaust air bubbles with a knife. Wipe the top of the jar and adjust the lid. Process the beans at 10 pounds pressure for 35 minutes in the water bath. Remember that all home canned non-acid foods should be boiled ten minutes before eating.

Green beans that are dried are cut into 1 inch lengths blanched for 5 minutes, then spread on the drying tray 1/2 to 3/4 inches thick. Use your thermometer if drying is to be done over the range, which is the quickest way. Dry at 115 to 120 degrees to begin, allowing temperature to rise to 140 degrees. Stir frequently. The process is complete when the beans are dry and brittle. When the product is dried put in paper bags and shake or stir daily for 10 days to distribute remaining moisture equally. Before packing for storage heat in oven to a temperature of 180 to 200 degrees to destroy insect eggs. Pack in containers which will prevent the entrance of moisture and insects, such as tin cans or fruit jars or paraffined bags or boxes. Store in a dry cool place.

Cuspidor From Train Hit Man Standing Outside

By HOWARD COWAN

CHAFFEE, Mo., July 2.—(AP)—While the government is designing an insurance policy to take care of civilian casualties during wartime, they might as well go ahead and write it to cover what happened to Earl Green.

He was standing by the railroad tracks near Gravois and a Frisco passenger came along about 60 miles an hour. A cuspidor flew out a door and hit him right in the breadbasket. He's been in a St. Louis hospital ever since with a tummy ache.

Speaking of the war, Moberly police are currently undergoing some embarrassment due to the enthusiastic but untimely practice raids of a boy-bombarder.

He climbs up the fire escape to the top of the Merchants Hotel and does it with eggs on the pedestrians below.

His score, the last time anyone stayed to keep track, was very poor—25 per cent. Three eggs landed on the sidewalk. The fourth splashed on the head and shoulders of an elderly gentleman who directed the attention of civilian defense officials to the incident.

Ted Williams Gets A Dressing Down

BOSTON, July 2.—(AP)—Ted Williams, heavy-hitting outfielder of the Boston Red Sox, was fined $250 and given a semi-public "dressing down" today because of his loafing and sulking yesterday when he was ridden by the fans during a double header with the Washington Senators.

Heavy-jawed Joe Cronin, Red Sox manager, announced the fine despite a public apology by Williams, and added:

"I felt it necessary, also, to dress him down in front of the entire ball club."

He reported he is fine and that his duties include working in a kitchen that prepares meals for 20 officers.

Waiting For War News Is Hard On Nerves

enemy on their southern wing.

It was the supreme moment for which Rommel had been striving, since he not only was anxious to engage the British before the latter had a chance to reorganize their disorganized forces, but he wanted to do battle before his dangerously drawn out lines of communication were further extended. The Nazi commander's supply lines likely are his greatest menace, especially since the allies claim air superiority and the American and British warplanes have been raking his communications and supply bases unceasingly. The one item of supply upon which both armies depended for their very lives was water, every drop of which had to be transported over the burning sands under bombardment. Lack of water meant horrible death in that fierce temperature.

Early reports left the trend of the battle uncertain. The Italians today claimed the capture of El Alamein. Berlin followed this up with the assertion that the axis forces had broken the enemy line and that the British were in retreat. There was no immediate confirmation of this, the British merely recording a repulse of the heavy axis attacks yesterday and saying that the fighting was "not unfavorable for us."

Meanwhile, over on the other side of Hitler's pincers operations the Nazis claimed the capture of the important Russian naval base of Sevastopol, which the German communique described as the "most powerful land and sea fortress in the world." Informed quarters in London said they didn't doubt the Berlin claim.

The fall of Sevastopol, while not a decisive event, would have far reaching effects both strategic and political. For one thing it would weaken Russia's hold on the Black sea and would increase Nazi pressure on Turkey.

While all this was going on the British house of commons was calling on Prime Minister Churchill for an accounting of his stewardship in view of the reverses in Libya. Well, there's nothing the mother of parliaments can do at this late hour that will alter the outcome of the battle which is being fought almost at the gates of Alexandria.

Still, though it may seem a bit incongruous to be staging a full dress debate, while the gods of war roll the dice to determine the fate of the Middle East and maybe of the world conflict—its good to see John Bull maintaining his democratic right to raise hell with the government. After all, that's one of the things this war is being fought for—to preserve the right of free speech and rule of the people.

Need Volunteers For Defense Work

A call for volunteers to become members of the auxiliary police department in connection with the Pettis County Defense Council has been made by Dr. Hardin Gouge. The group is headed by L. V. Estes, as chief.

A meeting has been planned for 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night at the court house. Mr. Estes requests those who can offer their services to this type of an assignment, call his home, 2163-W, and leave their name, address and phone number. He also requests those who do so to attend the meeting, as well as those who are interested but desire to learn more of the activity before signing up.

No Deadline For Individual Users

There is no deadline for those individuals who are still desiring to obtain sugar for canning purposes. The only sugar deadline is for industrial and institutional users. Individual and family units can obtain their sugar allotment certificates through the office of the Pettis County Rationing Board on West Fourth street.

The Number Five (5) stamp is good until July 25 for two pounds of sugar instead of one pound. BUT that two pounds must last for a month period. The change in issuing sugar from one-pound lots to two pound lots and for one month instead of for two weeks at a time is being done for the convenience of the grocers.

Taking Clerical Training At Colorado School

Van Glendon Sigman, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Sigman, 642 East Fifteenth street, who was sent to Jefferson Barracks May 16 was assigned to the air corps and sent to Fort Logan, Colo., to enter the air corps school there for clerical training. He will be there about ten weeks, and will then be assigned to duty.

The young man graduated from Longwood high school in the class of 1938 and took a civil service course at Central Business College.

Leave For Camp At 7:30 This Morning

High School Pupil Reports

Cecil Swift Tells Of Activities At Boys' State

Cecil Swift, Smith-Cotton high school student, who represented the Sedalia Kiwanis club at Boys State in Fulton last month, gave a detailed and interesting report of his and 400 other boys' activities at the school, when he appeared before the local club at its Thursday noon meeting in Bothwell hotel. Swift was introduced by Rev. O. J. Rumpf, chairman of the Boys and Girls Work committee.

Swift was a senator and leader of the minority party. His town and county were outstanding in point awards during the session of the school.

"Loyal Americans," was the subject of a patriotic talk by Ray Hunt who was introduced by E. E. Sterling, chairman of programs during July.

Henry Salveter spoke briefly on behalf of the county-wide drive for funds for the USO.

Musical Program The musical program was arranged by Burney Morris. He presented the following young girls who sang several vocal numbers: Rosalie Chasnoff, Louise Farris, Joan Rosenthal, Rosalie Marshall, Emily Schlichting, Erna Ruth Kasak and Violet Richardson.

Two new members of the club were introduced: J. J. McGrath, cashier of the Sedalia Bank and Trust Co., and William Morgan, manager of the Goodyear store. They will be formally inducted by Ed McLaughlin, chairman of the Educational committee, at the next meeting.

Herbert Seifert was a guest of Howard Roberts and Paul Hedderich.

Axis Troops Take El Alamein, 65 Miles West Of British Naval Base

fought on throughout the night—more than 12 hours after Nazi field headquarters announced that the Great Crimean citadel had fallen.

Soviet dispatches filed yesterday said overwhelming German forces carried the battle into the streets of Sevastopol itself after breaking through the city's fortifications, but declared that the defenders continued to fight against heavy odds.

Beaten Army Flees "The remainder of the beaten Sevastopol army has fled to the Peni sula of Khersones," the German high command asserted. "Crowded in a very small area, it faces annihilation."

Two successive Russian communiques ignored the claim that Sevastopol's garrison surrendered yesterday noon, and today the Soviet command declared:

"The defenders of Sevastopol have covered themselves with unfading glory. They are firmly and courageously defending from the German fascist invaders every inch of Soviet land."

It was possible, however, that the Russians were withholding acknowledgement pending evacuation of survivors of the garrison, who fought off nearly 225,000 axis troops through 27 days of bloody assault.

Accept Nazi Claim In London, informed quarters said the Nazi claim was "not doubted." These quarters said that while fighting in the Crimea was not entirely finished, the hopelessly out-numbered Russians were not expected to continue their resistance much longer.

The fall of Sevastopol, described by the Germans as "the most powerful land and sea fortress in the world," would free the German siege armies for a thrust into the oil-rich Caucasus or for duty on the now violently erupting Soviet mainland front.

While Churchill assumed responsibility for the Tobruk disaster, he nevertheless lashed out at his detractors with a charge that "everything has been done to weaken confidence in the government."

Reds Ignore German Claims That They Have Taken Sevastopol

claims of having captured Sevastopol.)

With hand to hand fighting going on and the Germans numerically 10 to 15 times superior, at some points Red army troops and Black sea fleet sailors here reported to be refusing to surrender.

Reputed Two Battalions One company which repulsed 5 attacks by two enemy battalions retreated when the Germans sent in a third, fresh battalion.

An artillery battery was cited also for firing constantly until it was outflanked and surrounded. Then it broke its way through the enemy encirclement and resumed fighting.

Russian forces fought on overnight in the Sevastopol sector and the Red army amassed a toll of about 7,000 German dead in repulsing attacks over a 48-hour period on the Kursk front, 500 miles to the north, the Soviet government reported at noon today.

Guerrillas Successful A guerrilla detachment in the region of German-occupied Orel was declared to have slain nearly 1,000 invaders in two months, battered their communication lines and captured rifles, machine guns and several thousand cartridges.

Numerically superior German forces seeking to expand their lodgements east of Kharkov were declared to have sacrificed more than 1,000 men in two days of action against Soviet lines and then "retreated to their critical position."

Russians Still Strong

Russian dispatches said the German command, testing the outer defenses of Moscow with a thrust from Gzhatsk on the first major action on the central front in more than four months, found them as strong as when the invaders were routed in a great autumn battle for the capital.

Gzhatsk is an advanced Nazi base on the Smolensk highway 100 miles west of Moscow. The Red army was reported to have broken a wedge which the Germans held briefly, restoring all positions.

Faith In Prime Minister

moreover, he said, there is no reason to suppose that hostilities will cease "when the final result has become obvious."

He paid tribute to the Russians for their "steady resistance" to the Germans and predicted they would "surprise Hitler again." "At any moment we may receive news of grave importance," he told the House of Commons on the heels of axis reports that the British Eighth Army, driven with heavy losses from Libya and its first Egyptian positions, was again in retreat, less than 70 miles from Alexandria.

He said that the fall of Tobruk, the last bulwark in Italian Libya, which opened the way for eastward invasion of Egypt, had been "utterly unexpected" by the cabinet, the chiefs of staff and Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck, commander in chief of middle eastern forces.

Churchill Grave

Winding up two days of debate on the grave events in Africa, and facing another test of confidence in his government, Churchill spoke gravely to the grave-faced Parliament.

He said that Britain and her allies, including the dominions, the Free French and the Poles, had lost "upwards of 50,000 men" in the last two weeks as a battle of Libya turned into the battle of Egypt.

He added to this figure "a great mass of material" and "large quantities of stores."

On the night before Tobruk fell to the axis field Marshal Erwin Rommel, Churchill said, Auchinleck advised the cabinet that the port and fortress city was adequately garrisoned, with its defenders in "good order" and with "90 days supplies available for the troops."

Enemy Obtained Supplies

By way of explanation of the debacle, Churchill said that heavy attacks on Malta, Britain's mid-Mediterranean island base flank the axis supply line to Libya, made it impossible to impede the axis reinforcements and the enemy "got lots of stuff across to Africa."

He asserted that the decision to defend Tobruk had been made by the war cabinet and its professional advisers and as a result "I am very ready on behalf of my government to take my full share of responsibility."

Criticism of Churchill's direction of the war has been associated in the debate with the fact that Churchill is both prime minister and minister of defense. One group of critics in Commons has been demanding that he yield the defense post to another who could devote more time to it.

While Churchill assumed responsibility for the Tobruk disaster, he nevertheless lashed out at his detractors with a charge that "everything has been done to weaken confidence in the government."

War Expenses For One Year

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(AP)—Secretary Morgenthau announced today that the treasury spent a record total of $25,953,665,954 for cash war expenses during the fiscal year which ended Tuesday night.

"In the fiscal year just closed," he said in a year-end statement, "we expended approximately 25 per cent of the national income for the war effort. In the fiscal year 1943 the contemplated war expenditures will represent approximately 35 per cent of the national income."

He referred to a budget bureau estimate that war costs in the new fiscal year just beginning will cost the treasury sixty-seven billion dollars.

Adding in non-war and other expenses of the government total treasury expenditures were at the unprecedented figure of $32,491,307,397 for the fiscal year.

Revenues, also a record, aggregated $12,799,061,621, leaving an unequalled deficit of $19,692,245,776.

authorities, he managed to round up all he believed to be involved, including one man who was arrested at sea by the crew of a U. S. naval patrol plane.

General Andrews issued this statement: "We must understand that the enemy probably expects us to smash this ring sooner or later and most likely has preconceived plans to place another echelon into operation."

"Our intelligence agencies will leave no stone unturned in ferreting out the evidence of any such activity. We will destroy the enemy agencies before their activities can be used to their further advantage."

Creates Commission

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(AP)—President Roosevelt created today a military commission of seven army generals to try eight persons accused of landing in Florida and New York to try to commit sabotage.

The commission was set up by means of a presidential military order, and it will begin its deliberations in Washington July 8.

An accompanying proclamation denied the accused men access to civil courts.

The prosecution is to be conducted by the attorney and the judge advocate general, the military order said, and two colonels, Cassius M. Dowell and Kenneth Royall, will be counsel for the defense.

Record To Roosevelt

Mr. Roosevelt provided that the record of the trial, including any judgment or sentence, should be transmitted directly to him for his action.

The death penalty is expected to be sought by the government.

The generals appointed to the military tribunal are Major Generals Frank R. McCoy, who will preside; Walter S. Grant, Blanton Winship and Lorenzo D. Gasser and Brigadier Generals Guy V. Henry, John T. Lewis, and John T. Kennedy.

Good Collection Of Old Rubber

The rubber salvage campaign being carried on throughout the nation will find Pettis county coming through with its old rubber boots, garden hoses, old tires, tubes, rubber heels, hot water bottles, balls, and so forth. The Pettis County Council of Defense announced this morning a preliminary report shows in Sedalia alone 228,814 pounds, or 114 tons and 814 pounds of rubber have been turned in.

Not only in Sedalia but out in the county there are several independent filling stations, business houses and individuals who have been gathering rubber, but who have not reported it in.

The council requests these persons to report immediately so a more definite report can be made to the government. The collection will continue until the middle of July. Any one who has any rubber around their house or place of business not in use is requested to turn it in immediately so Pettis county's quota will go over the top, company, which volunteered to collect in addition to filling stations and a quota of 1,100 pounds, has already collected 9,512 pounds. They will call for salvaged rubber if notified at the office, phone 770, and will pick it up free of charge.

Report On Nazi Casualties

BERLIN, (From German Broadcasts), July 2.—(AP)—The German high command declared today that total Nazi losses on the Russian front from June 22, 1941 to last June 21—the first year of invasion—were 271,612 officers non-commissioned officers and men killed and 65,730 missing.

Figures Conflict

The German statistics were in sharp conflict with the Soviet Russian summary of June 23 which said the Germans had lost 100,000 men killed, wounded and captured in the first year of the German-Russian war.

The Soviet information bureau, reviewing the first year of the Russian-German war, said at least 3,500,000 Germans were killed and 60 percent of the Nazi wounded were unable to return to the fight.

Adolf Hitler gave Germany's last previous tabulation himself on December 11, 1941—when the war was roughly six months old and before the full effect of the German army's disastrous winter in Russia had been suffered.

His figures offered this comparison:

German dead ..... 162,314
Wounded ..... 571,767
Missing ..... 33,324

A Berlin dispatch to the Berne, Switzerland, newspaper Der Bund, crediting official German military sources, said last March 8 that Germany's total losses up to then were 1,500,000 soldiers but that this figure was "far behind private estimates."

Mr. and Mrs. Birt Knox of Kansas City and Miss Ruth Gehring and Jean Gehring also of Kansas City have been visiting for several days at Mr. Knox's farm, west of town.

William Cooper, who has employment in Kentucky on the defense program and who was called here two weeks ago by the serious illness of his father, has recently returned to Kentucky. His father is improved.

Mrs. Mary Brick and granddaughter Phyllis Brick, of Fort Scott, Kas., left for their home Friday after visiting here ten days with Mrs. Brick's son Clifford Brick and family.

Lee Cayton left recently for Colorado where he has employment at a defense plant. His wife and son Jo Lee expect to join him in a few weeks.

Miss Ellen Vonnannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Vonnannon of Clifton City and Harry Hazlett, who was recently inducted into the U. S. Army service and stationed at Jefferson Barracks, were married Wednesday evening in Sedalia by Judge A. M. Harlan.

J. J. Coe, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Coe, north of town, who has been called into U. S. Service, will leave Wednesday for Jefferson Barracks.

Mrs. O. T. Bridges will entertain the Clifton City Homemakers club at her home next Wednesday afternoon.

Charlie Cranfield, better known as "Dutch" Cranfield lost a valuable work horse recently when the heavy downpour of rain caused the river to rise so suddenly and the high water surrounded the team in a nearby pasture.

One horse saved itself but the other has never been found.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rissler and family of Aurora, visited here and near Sedalia with relatives and friends several days the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Potter motored to Omaha, Neb., last Thursday and visited with their daughter, Mrs. Searle Todd, Mr. Todd and family, returning home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schupp and family were dinner guests of Mr. Schupp's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schupp and family near Pleasant Green, Sunday.

Arthur Maples who has employment at Knobnoster, visited here Wednesday with his family.

Miss Esther Reuter is recovering from a recent tonsillitis operation performed at St. Joseph's hospital, Boonville.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hallahan and Mrs. Hallahan's brother, Sidney O'Neil and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cramer attended a birthday dinner given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hallahan's daughter, Mrs. S. R. Seifert at Otterville Sunday, honoring the son Edward on his 9th birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Knox of Kansas City are enjoying a two-week vacation in Sedalia and at Clifton City.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Willis, of Sedalia, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Vonnannon and family, Sunday.

Yankees Lose;
Lead Cut To Three Games

Boston And Yank
Series This Week
May Change Picture

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

It has been some time since anyone needed to feel sorry for the world champion New York Yankees, but their plight is getting more pathetic night and day.

Since marching boldly out of Yankee Stadium nearly three weeks ago they have lost 11 out of 17 contests and last night saw their American League lead cut to three games as they blew a 5-4 decision to the Philadelphia Athletics.

This was a deduction of 1½ games in their first place margin in a single day because of the Boston Red Sox, second straight doubleheader victory over the Washington Senators.

The Yankees were held to five hits by three Philadelphia pitchers, but this was not what whipped them. The champs held a 4-0 lead at the end of four innings, one of the runs being Joe DiMaggio's 11th homer of the year. But then the Yanks folded up as they have done in four of their last five games.

They Let The A's Rally
They let the A's rally for two runs in the fifth and tie the score in the seventh. Then in the ninth, with runners on first and second, Johnny Murphy fielded relief pitcher Luman Harris' bunt and threw into left field to allow the winning run to cross the plate. Altogether the A's made 14 hits.

Washington was held to five hits in each game and the Red Sox made twice as many. They downed Buck Newsom 3-2 in the opener with a run in the seventh and three innings of perfect relief pitching by Yank Terry and then they captured the nightcap with the greatest east 7-1.

This brought Boston's current surge to 20 victories in 24 games and put a premium on the three-game series between the Yanks and Red Sox at Fenway park tomorrow and Saturday—with the possibility that New York may lose control of first place.

The Cleveland Indians kept within sight of the struggle for the lead by beating the Chicago White Sox 7-2 on the seven-hit hurling of Lefty Al Smith. The tribe scored seven runs in the first inning, routing Oval Grove before he could get a batter out.

Browns In Little Scoring
The St. Louis Browns turned loose a 14-hit assault to score in all but one inning and belt the Detroit Tigers 12-0 on the five-hit hurling of Elden Auker, who thus became the first American League pitcher to gain ten victories this season. Home runs by George McQuinn and Mike Char-tak dressed up St. Louis' attack.

Action in the National League was limited to two games with the St. Louis Cardinals shutting out the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-0 and the Chicago Cubs cuffing the Cincinnati Reds 5-2 in a night encounter.

St. Louis' success came on the six-hit pitching by Lefty Ernie White, who had been troubled with a sore arm earlier this season.

Pastor Taking Time
Out For A Little Golf

NEW YORK, July 2—(P)—Bob Pastor, who back-tracked a path to ring renown, floored the fight game's master mind, Jimmy Johnston, today with a retreat from a little matter of a hundred and fifty thousand dollars, give and take a few thousand.

Johnston was speechless—and the entire fight industry was more or less incoherent—because Pastor wants to play golf this summer instead of picking up a hatful of dough with a few beak busting bouts.

"Just think," moaned Jimmy, "here I am with the one real 'live' heavyweight around, now that Louis and Conn are in the army. I'm getting offers for him every day—Just look, Cleveland, Los Angeles, Toledo, Pittsburgh, Detroit. And what does he say? He doesn't want to fight until the middle of August because he wants some time to play golf."

Some Big Offers
Offers Johnston has received include $25,000 for Rapid Robert to take on Harry Bobo in Pittsburgh or Cleveland or both, $20,000 to meet Jimmy Bivins in Cleveland and $25,000 if he'll mail with Melito Bettina in Chicago; $15,000 to fight Lou Nova in Chicago, $10,000 for Lee Savold in Detroit or Toledo and either $7,500 or $5,000 to appear against lesser Maulers in Toledo.

Jimmy also showed a wire from Los Angeles which guaranteed Pastor $10,000 to fight either Pat Valentino or Turkey Thompson in Los Angeles.

'Hap' Williams
Turns Into A
Moody Player

Disciplinary Hand Of Manager Joe Cronin
May Fall Today

BOSTON, July 2—(P)—Unless penitence has replaced sulkiness, the many-mooded Ted Williams, the only member of the hustling Boston Red Sox who challenges the home fans' rights to jeer at will, may feel the disciplinary hand of Manager Joe Cronin today when he reports at Fenway Park.

For the third time since he joined the Red Sox in 1939, Williams, the American League's 406-batting champion, was pulled out of the lineup by Cronin yesterday when, irked by a spectator's jibe, he sulked and loafed at the plate.

Ted Dresses And Quits
Williams dressed and quit the park immediately and, after the game, Cronin, visibly annoyed by his star's display of ill-temper, appeared undecided about his disciplinary measures.

"I won't make any decision until game-time tomorrow," Cronin said. "Everything will depend on Williams' attitude."

Sports Roundup

BY HUGH FULERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist
NEW YORK, July 2—The baseball equipment fund, which gets the first $100,000 of the dough you folks will pay to see the two all star games, already is $16,000 in the red after starting out last year with $27,500. But Ford Frick, who runs the show, says the fund has managed to provide a little equipment for every outfit in the United States and a few outside. Total administrative expense so far has been just $67.62. By way of showing appreciation, the War Department has provided plane priorities so the St. Louis players can get here in time for Monday's game.

Tanks For The Memory
After the army's big war show, featuring tanks, jeeps, peeps, etc., has finished a week's stand at Philadelphia's Franklin Field, H. Jamison Swarts, Penn graduate manager of athletics, surveyed the battlefield and found the turf on the gridiron was practically ruined, the surface of the running track was gone and an area of about 75 square feet, where flame throwers had been in action, had to be dug out six inches and refilled with fresh soil.

Today's Guest Star
Wilton Garrison, Charlotte Observer: "If New York fight fans will sit in the dark, they won't be deprived of their outdoor shows this summer. Being in the dark about what goes on in the ring is nothing new to them after some of the screwy decisions of the last few big fights."

Service Department
When Corp. Otto Meyers of Camp Roberts, Calif., swatted a terrific homer on a makeshift ball field, Lt. Col. R. E. Smith, the Camp's special service officer and a red hot baseball fan, quickly heard about it. So Corp. Meyers was given the task of converting a chunk of wilderness into a first-class baseball park. Recognizing the value of the corporal's accomplishment, the colonel named it Meyers Field. Pitcher John McGill of the Chanute Field (Ill.) Green Hornets softball team had a no-hit, no-run game against the Decatur Staleys until two were out in the ninth inning and there were two strikes on the last batter. Then he folded and lost the game 7-2. That's once when a hornet stung.

Expect $100,000 for Baseball Equipment
For Armed Forces

BY AUSTIN BEALMEAR

NEW YORK, July 2—(P)—Ford Frick, who doesn't mind losing sleep if it will keep his National leaguers from losing the all-star game, is staying awake these July evenings to think up ways of making baseball's dream game a nightmare for the American leaguer.

The two picked squads of the major leagues will square off at the polo grounds for their tenth annual outing at 5:30 p. m. (CWT) Monday, a shindig in which the president of the National league has a two-fold interest.

He would like, probably in the order named, (1) to fatten the baseball equipment fund for the armed forces by $100,000, and (2) to flatten the American leaguers for a good many reasons by any legal method.

Enough Pitchers On Hand
"You know, I certainly want to win this ball game and I'll do everything possible to get the strongest team out there," Frick told a group of baseball writers he had gathered about him especially for the purpose.

"I have asked the managers concerned to rest five pitchers for the two days preceding the all-star game, if possible."

The five pitchers are Johnny Vander Meer of Cincinnati, Cliff Melton of New York, Claude Passeau of Chicago, Whitlow Wyatt of Brooklyn and Mort Cooper of St. Louis.

Gunner Hagg In New Mile Record

GOTTEBORG, Sweden, July 2—(P)—Gunnar Hagg, crack Swedish middle-distance runner, laid claim today to the title of the world's fastest mile. Only a few hours after an eight-month suspension had been lifted, the slim track star blazed a mile in 4 minutes, 6.2 seconds, last night, clipping two-tenths of a second off the recognized world record established five years ago by Sydney Wooderson of Great Britain.

Prepare Orders To Liquidate The CCC

WASHINGTON, July 2—(P)—Officials of the Civilian Conservation Corps met gloomily Wednesday to draw up orders for liquidation of one of the first weapons of New Deal used against the depression.

James J. McEntee director, said the demobilization plan would be announced when President Roosevelt signed the bill in which Congress yesterday declined to continue the CCC meanwhile he ordered enrollments stopped.

An aide said many youths probably began leaving the camps today and estimated that virtually all the CCC bivouacs would be deserted, except for caretakers, by the end of July.

Broadcast Survivors Of Houston Safe
Navy Has No Information On Japanese Report

WASHINGTON, July 2—(P)—A navy spokesman reported Wednesday that Japanese, in a propaganda broadcast, had declared that 1,000 survivors of the missing American cruiser Houston and the Australian cruiser Perth were safe in an internment camp in Batavia, Java, enemy-held territory.
Such information, the spokesman said, can be collected only through established international channels and when available will be made public by the prisoner-of-war information bureau of the War Department.
The two cruisers disappeared Feb. 28, after the Java Sea battle. The Navy spokesman issued this statement:
"A large number of the survivors of the USS Houston and HMAS Perth missing since the battle of the Java Sea are safe in an internment camp in Batavia, along with American civilians, according to Tokyo broadcasts over the Japanese-controlled Batavia radio."
"The broadcast declared that Nipponese sailors from a destroyer picked up some of the survivors and 'paid tribute to the wonderful fight put up by those vessels.'"
Says Transfer Arranged
"The broadcast further asserted that the Japanese arranged for the transfer, mostly Americans and Australians. The prisoners were transferred to the Dutch barracks at Batavia, where they

Bullet Riddled Body Is Found
WILMINGTON, Del., July 2—(P)—A half clothed, bullet riddled body found in forest near here was identified positively on Wednesday as that of Anthony Romeo, whom New York police have described as the trigger man for Brooklyn's kill-for-cash syndicate.
Earlier, his widow had identified clothing found June 17 a mile from where the body was discovered Monday.
Mrs. Romeo said her 40-year-old husband had been missing since early in June.
The victim, a delegate from Local 929 of the Longshoremen's union, had been involved in the investigation of the slaying of Peter Panto, labor leader.

Wheat Pool For Five Nations
WASHINGTON, July 2—(P)—The United States and four other nations have decided to create a wheat pool of not less than 100,000,000 bushels for the relief of famine in war-stricken areas, the state department announced Wednesday.
The decision was embodied in an agreement looking toward control of prices, production and exports of the bread grain. Signers of the pact were the United States, Great Britain, Canada, Australia and Argentina.
Worked out by the five countries participating in the Washington wheat meeting last April, the agreement became effective June 27, the date on which formal approval of the respective governments was transmitted.
Canada and the United Kingdom are to furnish 25,000,000 bushels of wheat or flour to the relief pool, and the United States is to provide 50,000,000 bushels. These nations, with Argentina, would furnish additional supplies, as required, on a basis to be worked out by the governments involved. Argentina's exact quota apparently is to be determined later.
The memorandum agreement, approved by the five countries, is designed as a first step toward the conclusion, after the war, of a comprehensive wheat agreement between all countries concerned in the international wheat trade.

Lift Price Ceilings On Certain Services
WASHINGTON, July 2—(P)—Price ceilings were removed Wednesday from farm service charges involved in planting, cultivating and harvesting crops, raising livestock and poultry and preparation for market.
Services such as plowing, fertilizing, spraying, sheep-shearing, cattle clipping, cotton picking, saw milling, pruning and grafting, ditching, butchering, peanut digging and mowing were excluded from all restrictions imposed either by general price regulation or the ceiling on consumer services.

Eight Likely Face Military Commission
WASHINGTON, July 2—(P)—The eight men accused of landing on the east coast from German submarines for the purpose of committing sabotage probably will be tried by a military commission next week it was learned Wednesday, and the death penalty will be sought.
Government officials have been reluctant to discuss the case because of numerous legal technicalities and its importance. How-

Giant Operating Base For U. S. Navy Been Completed

By J. WES GALLAGHER
UNITED STATES NAVAL BASE, Londonderry, Northern Ireland, Thursday, July 2—(P)—The U. S. Navy has completed a giant operating base here guarding the western approaches of Britain in the critical battle of the Atlantic.
Londonderry in this war has become the counterpart of Queenstown (COB), now in neutral Elre, which during the first world war was base for as many as 92 United States warships at one time.
The Londonderry base is designed to refit, repair and supply destroyers and other light craft on Atlantic convoy duty. It was commissioned Feb. 5, but is just now receiving its finishing touches — a job virtually completed seven months after U. S. entry into the war.
"It already has lifted a great burden off the convoy problem," said Commodore Ross Stewart, commander of the adjoining British naval establishment.
Actual construction of the big base was started last year with lend-lease funds and more than 3,000 Irish and American laborers, under direction of American civil engineers headed by Commander Henry P. Needham.
Shops Are Operated
Now hundreds of United States Marines and Bluejackets operate machine shops, supply bases, dry-docks, control rooms, a hospital, movies and barber shops. All this is spread over hundreds of acres.
War-time security prevents relating details of the intricate mechanics of the establishment, but it is ready to repair or rebuild anything from a typewriter to the biggest American destroyer.
"Everything in the base down to the last pork chop or nut and bolt has been brought from the United States," Captain William

Larson of Annapolis and Chicago explained. "It's a bit of the United States transplanted."
The hundreds of men required to operate the base are housed in deluxe "quonset huts," prefabricated at home and put together here. Scores of warehouses are stuffed with supplies.
In blacked-out buildings skilled navy men operate millions of dollars worth of precision machinery.
Bunk Beside British
While the American base operates as a separate unit, jobs are done jointly with the nearby British yard as occasion demands.
In a 200-bed quonset hut hospital, which is capable of doubling its capacity overnight, British sailors occupy beds alongside Americans.
In well-hidden and secret chart rooms a complete operations force under Capt. Lee Hewlett Thebaud of New York, directs movements of scores of American convoy craft operating in dangerous Atlantic waters.
As a guard at the western sea approaches, this base had to be located at the extreme tip of Northern Ireland — in sight of Eire where German diplomats operate freely.
A large number of Marines under Lieut. Col. Lucian W. Burnham of Boston guard every inch of the plant.
"Shoot and ask questions afterward." These are the orders given the steel-helmeted Leathernecks.
Walkout In Mills At Plant
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 2—(P)—Climaxing an intensive union organization drive at the vest Bethlehem steel plant here, crews on the 13-inch and 14-inch mills of the Gaultier works walked out Wednesday night because one of their fellow worker refused to join CIO United Steel Workers of America.
Eugene Maurice, director of district 12, USWA, said the men voted at a mass meeting to remain out until the non-union men joined or was dismissed.
The organization drive featured a "bargain" rate of $1 initiation fee and $1 a month dues.
